Mix es el gato de Max, un joven estudiante que lo siente como un verdadero amigo: los dos han vivido cientos de aventuras y han aprendido a la vez creciendo juntos. Pero cuando Max acaba sus estudios y empieza a trabajar, Mix pasa mucho rato solo. Además, con la edad, Mix se ha quedado ciego. Sin embargo, en el momento más inesperado aparece un nuevo amigo, un simpático ratón mexicano que nos hace ver la importancia de la amistad, y qué gratificante es cuando esta sucede entre diferentes. He aquí una espléndida lección sobre la hermandad entre especies y el respeto frente a la posesión. Como dice Sepúlveda: "Siempre me han gustado los gatos. En realidad, me gustan todos los animales, pero con los gatos tengo una relación especial. Hace muchos años conocí a un astrólogo chino que me dijo: "Alguna vez, en una vida pasada, fuiste un gato muy feliz, porque eras el gato favorito de un mandarín"".

"Ich könnte sagen, dass Mix der Kater von Max war, so wie ich auch sagen könnte, dass Max der Mensch von Mix war. Doch das Leben lehrt uns, dass es nicht gerecht ist, dass einer des anderen Herrn ist, also sagen wir, dass Max und Mix oder Mix und Max sich gegenseitig sehr mochten." Auch in der zweiten Katzengeschichte von Luis Sepúlveda geht es wieder um Freundschaft, die selbst die größten Hindernisse überwinden kann. Das gilt für den erblindeten Kater Mix, dem ausgerechnet eine Maus zum Freund wird, genauso wie für Zorbas und die anderen Hafenkatten, die einst einer Möwe das Fliegen beibrachten (UB 9133). Ungekürzte und unbearbeitete Textausgabe in der Originalsprache, mit Übersetzungen schwieriger Wörter am Fuß jeder Seite, Nachwort und Literaturhinweisen. Luis Sepúlveda, geb. 1949 in Chile, musste wegen seines politischen Engagements seine Heimat verlassen und lebte u.a. über zehn Jahre in Deutschland im Exil. Er arbeitete als Journalist und für die UNESCO. Heute lebt Sepúlveda in Spanien. Sein Werk wurde in zahlreiche Sprachen übersetzt und erhielt wichtige Auszeichnungen.

In a warehouse in Santiago, three aging friends meet and await the arrival of a man from their past. Once militant supporters of Salvador Allende, they have grown disillusioned in the three and a half decades since his assassination. Their city has changed under Pinochet, and so have they: heart troubles, thinning hair, a few pounds too many around the waist; there is little left to connect them with their glory days. But now, the three friends have been called together at the behest of the anarchist, Pedro Nolasco, a.k.a. The Shadow, to carry out one final revolutionary gesture. But Lucho, Lolo and Cacho wait in vain; the sudden and gruesome death of The Shadow leaves them without a leader. Now they must turn to Coco Aravena, the most reckless of their former comrades. After years of playing second fiddle, this is the bumbling Coco's chance to show them what he is capable of.

Bursting with local color, this hilarious, heartwarming coming-of-age tale follows two friends on a raucous journey across Cameroon as they grapple with grief, sexuality, and dreams of leaving. After their father's sudden death, Jean's older brother Roger decides he's had enough of their abusive mother and their city. He runs away to try his luck crossing illegally into Europe, in the hope of becoming a soccer star abroad. When no news of him reaches the family, and the police declare that finding some feckless brat isn't worth their time, Jean feels he has to act. Aiming to catch up with Roger before he gets to the Nigerian border, Jean enlists the help of the older Simon, a close neighborhood friend, and the two set out on the road. Through a series of joyful, sparky vignettes, Cameroon life is revealed in all its ups and downs. Max Lobe insightfully touches on grave, complex issues, such as the violence Boko Haram has inflicted on the region, yet still recounts events with remarkable humor and levity.

Imaginary friend Budo narrates this heartwarming story of love, loyalty, and the power of the imagination—the perfect read for anyone who has ever had a friend . . . real or otherwise Budo is lucky as imaginary friends go. He's been alive for more than five years, which is positively ancient in the world of imaginary friends. But Budo feels his age, and thinks constantly of the day when eight-year-old Max Delaney will stop believing in him. When that happens, Budo will disappear. Max is different from other children. Some people say that he has Asperger's Syndrome, but most just say he's "on the spectrum." None of this matters to Budo, who loves Max and is charged with protecting him from the class bully, from awkward situations in the cafeteria, and even in the bathroom stalls. But he can't protect Max from Mrs. Patterson, the woman who works with Max in the Learning Center and who believes that she alone is qualified to care for this young boy. When Mrs. Patterson does the unthinkable and kidnaps Max, it is up to Budo and a team of imaginary friends to save him—and Budo must ultimately decide which is more important: Max's happiness or Budo's very existence. Narrated by Budo, a character with a unique ability to have a foot in many worlds—imaginary, real, child, and adult—Memoirs of an Imaginary Friend touches on the truths of life, love, and friendship as it races to a heartwarming . . . and heartbreaking conclusion.

Max is used to being called Stupid. And he is used to everyone being scared of him. On account of his size and looking like his dad. Kevin is used to being called Dwarf. On account of his size and being some cripple kid. But greatness comes in all sizes, and together Max and Kevin become Freak The Mighty and walk high above the world. An inspiring, heartbreaking, multi-award winning international bestseller.

“Get ready to cheer for Emma in this non-stop nail-biting adventure!”—Catherine Coulter, #1 New York Times Bestselling Author Sometimes you have to risk it all... Emma Wright has finally escaped the dangerous man who's controlled her every move for the past six years. Taking her five-year-old son, she has fled across the country—seeking freedom, safety and a fresh start. But Max's father isn't giving them up so easily. Preston Holman understands the lengths a parent will go for his child. He's given up everything to pursue the man he believes killed his son. When Preston meets Emma, he wants nothing to do with her or the boy who reminds him so much of his own child. Yet he can't abandon them—and as he's drawn into the danger that surrounds them, Preston begins to wonder if he's finally found something to live for beyond revenge. Originally published in 2005
